GRAND AGENCY BOOKS TO FILM CATALOGUE

- CONTENT -

At Grand Agency, we love a good story. A really good idea with strong characters is often suitable for more than one format. A beloved book becomes a film, a cool comic album develops into a VR-game, an exciting TV series takes the shape of a play at the theater, or a wild idea adapts into a radio drama or a wonderful musical. The narrators' imagination seems to have no limits, and the same applies to us.

When we started Grand Agency, our focus was on books and literary rights, but pretty soon we discovered that our writers' ideas wouldn't limit themselves to take place between paper covers. The strong stories wanted to find new ways and a large number of our authors' books have already been made into films or are being adapted right now for film and television. In this catalog we are proud to present both projects that are in progress, and a number of books that are just waiting to find their next form.

Welcome to our Grand universe.

CLOSE YOUR EYES

A man is found shot dead in a park early one morning in August. The bullet hit him in the temple, and he died immediately, leaving a wife and small children behind. But what was he doing out late on a Sunday night? And why did someone want to kill him?

Mija Wadö is put in charge of the case, and, while she works, she tries to keep her mind off the life-changing information she recently learned. Ronnie is back at the station, and their working relationship is getting stronger. But when another man is found shot in the same way, the police are faced with a growing mystery.

The author Zarita Roos is struggling to write her new book when, at a restaurant, she overhears two police officers talking about a new murder case. The details are frighteningly familiar.

THE GIRL IN THE STONE PARK

A teenage girl is found almost frozen to death at the Stone Park in Oravais. She is badly injured and can barely speak but no one has reported her missing. Police Officer Mija Wadö visits the girl regularly at a psychiatric ward, without success. Then Mija is confronted with another riddle, the murder of a diabetes researcher. No forensic evidence can be secured in his luxurious villa. The cases require Mija's full attention, but private issues are spinning in her mind. Is she ready to face her deepest pain points?

WEAK FLESH

A girl is found murdered after sneaking away from a summer camp organized by a local Free church. Police Officer Mija Wadö has just returned from a long sick leave and is immediately assigned to the case. Wadö's interrogations reveal teenage conflicts – or maybe something else? The villagers, on the other hand, have already decided who the murderer is. The situation is explosive.

HARALD'S MOTHER

by Johanna Frid

Johanna Frid builds a full-scale and sharp generational war. /.../ This novel is a manic flare-up – full of pendulum movements, symmetries and borrowings from the Bible, Simone de Beauvoir and Inger Christensen.”

DAGENS NYHETER, SWE

JOHANNA FRID'S LONG AWAITED COMEBACK!

Daughter-in-law and mother-in-law meet at an airport. For a full 24 hours they await a delayed plane, and as the hours pass the confrontations become more and more relentless. What happens when you realize that you are not two, but three people in a relationship?

“I was not captured. I wasn't being held hostage. I wasn't in hell. It wasn't the devil who sat down at my table for a quick chat. The devil had cloven hoof. The devil didn't drink pear lemonade. Harald's mother was an ordinary woman who wanted to see her son after he spent six weeks in a treatment center in the Norwegian mountains. The big question was why I was there and why I wanted to see her son after he spent six weeks in a treatment center in the Norwegian mountains.”

Harald's Mother is Johanna Frid's comeback after the breakthrough novel Nora, or Burn Oslo Burn.

THE ASTONISHING TALE OF GEORGE VON NOTHING

by Cilla & Rolf Börj Lind

From Sweden's crime masters – a tall tale with humor, generosity and pure joy!

At the bottom of a deep bay is a small village called Shadowhill. Due to the high mountains the sun only reaches down to the village every five years, at the summer solstice, a phenomenon that occurs just when our story takes place. The year is 1960.

One day a stranger shows up in the godforsaken village. He carries a shoe box under his arm and claims that his name is George von Nothing and that he has special talents.

When the sun finally reaches down to the village everything turns into a dazzling celebration. At the culmination of the grandiose village party, the great magician George von Nothing performs his last astonishing magic trick for a stunned audience. After which life in Shadowhill side returns to its pleasant little course again.

Almost.

Something completely new from the crime duo with the spirit of Steinbeck or The 100-Year-Old Man.

Like a good tomato sauce, the tale about Georg von Nothing has been simmering with the authors for a long time. When they sat down to write the story it more or less wrote itself and you can tell, they had a very good time writing! This tall tale is a funny, warm and inspiring story that makes you think of the early works by John Irving or John Steinbeck.

Vigga has always felt as though there's a glass wall between her and the life that people around her are living. Try as she might, she can't get to the other side – only with her best friend, Maiken, does the wall come down. But when Maiken becomes pregnant, she slowly but surely begins to withdraw from their relationship.

As Maiken's belly grows, Vigga is assigned a work placement at Denmark's largest aquarium. There she's expecting to go through her usual antisocial routine: show up, eat lunch alone, go back home without having spoken to a single person. Six months, then on to the next placement. But when she meets Rosa, an octopus, things begin to shift for Vigga.

Aquarium is a novel about friendship, family and the fear of change – and about the octopus that puts everything into perspective.

What happens when the existential pain of losing a loved one turns into mental illness?

BLUE NOTES

Blue Notes is a novel about grief, love and science. Examining the question of how far we should go in a world where new diagnosis and possibilities of treatment constantly present themselves. How much grief is too much? And how far should we go to avoid pain?

This novel shares important themes with Bomann's debut novel Agathe. It explores the search for identity, loneliness, and the ever difficult relations between people – as well as the healing power of love.

MONSTERS IN THERAPY

by Jenny Jägerfeld & Mats Strandberg

IN TREATMENT MEETS FRANKENSTEIN

Jenny's and Mats' own words on the book

"The idea for this book came to us when we had just seen the premiere of a theatre adaptation of FRANKENSTEIN. We started talking about how the classic horror story is actually a family drama. We said, jokingly, that it could all have ended so differently if only Victor, Elizabeth and the Monster had gone to family therapy. And then we looked at each other, and we just knew."

Four iconic monsters of Gothic horror literature – Dr. Jekyll, Carmilla, Frankenstein's monster and Dorian Gray – struggle with timeless dilemmas. Their therapist; sharp and modern, has her own dark secrets. A hybrid of fiction, non fiction and self help.

MY HAND IN MINE

by Atefeh Sebdani

Narrative non fiction

A little girl clings to her mother, but adult hands pry her out of her mother's arms. Later, the girl sits on a worn out bus driving along dusty roads towards an unknown destination. Atefeh is five years old when she and her brothers are smuggled to Europe. The parents are soldiers in an Iranian resistance movement and remain in the organization's military camps.

My Hand in Mine is a story about growing up with no one to hold on to but yourself, about abuses that are skillfully cleaned up and about a society that repeatedly fails to see the vulnerable child. But it is also a story of a stubbornly burning life force, and of the courage to finally break free.

VOICE OF THE YEAR 2022 - THE SELMA AWARD!
SWEDISH UN FEDERATION PRIZE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS!

"When it comes to the issue of men's violence, it is not enough for a few men to get involved in the issue. A first step to change can be to read this book, which efficiently and pedagogically punctures the defenses and excuses we men use to avoid calling ourselves out or showing moral courage." DAGENS NYHETER

Comedian and actress Bianca Kronlöf writes letters to men she has met. About emotions, sex, violence, masculinity. To the slack and the hard. To dad and grandpa. To the unborn son. To the one night stand. To you who have bought the myth and to you who have never raised your hand. Are you one of them?

The Vardari Trilogy

Norway's fantasy queen Siri Pettersen is back with a spellbinding fantasy mystery on a Norse foundation, about blood, desire and addiction.

The Iron Wolf & Silver Throat

Juva hates blood readers. Praised for their Sight, they are nothing but swindlers, preying on people's fears, for power and profit. Born by blood reader kin herself, she knows only too well, and she has vowed never to become one of them. But when her family is threatened by vardari, the eerie lasting ones, who never age, Juva is desperately entangled in a hunt for the blood readers' legacy: a dark secret that once changed the world, and may do so again.

In order to survive, she has to confront the childhood memory she fought to forget: That time she saw the devil.

- A little girl is forced to forget that she saw the devil
- An immortal has to commit murder to hide an old sin
- A wolf-sick betrays his lover, to obtain eternal life
- A mysterious clockwork starts ticking, after six hundred years
- A grim secret, guarded for generations, has gone missing

Amazing Siri Pettersen - the winner of:

- The Norwegian South Literary Award
- The Norwegian Havmann Award
- The Norwegian YA Award
- The Norwegian Booksellers' Grants
- The ARK Bookchain's "Book of the year" Award
- The Norwegian Fabel Award

... and many more.

More from Siri Pettersen Bubble

Abbie is angry. She is forced to get out of bed, forced to attend school, forced to learn things she'll never need to know, forced to live with the nickname Bubble. She is bound to follow other people's rules, in a crappy town, in a crappy world.

After the worst day in school, she finds a mysterious glass globe in the graveyard, with a ragdoll inside, and everything changes.

YOU WILL LOVE HIS CHARACTERS - AND FEAR FOR THEIR LIVES!

As an author, Mats Strandberg has always been inspired by movies and television, which is evident in his way of building characters, telling stories and writing dialogue. Therefore, it is no surprise that his fiction is so well suited to being adapted into just that.

MATS STRANDBERG - THE MASTER OF HORROR

THE END

You are 17 years old. It is summer, and everything looks the same as usual. But everyone knows what's coming. In little more than a month, a comet is crashing into earth and we will all be gone.

How do you want to spend the last weeks? What do you want to say to the ones you love? How does it feel to know the exact date and time of your death? And if we are all dying, what does one life more or less matter?

The End is the story of two lonely young people in a world living on borrowed time. A tragedy ties them together and the surrounding mystery grows into a mutual obsession. But will they find the answers before the sky is set aflame and the oceans evaporate?

MY NEW FRIEND HÅKEN

I was walking the usual paved footpath around town and away towards the grove when I saw him. He was sitting in an oak tree. From a distance it looked like he had a tail hanging down from the tree branch.

Aris lives with his mother in a poverty-stricken suburb of Stockholm. Aris has learned to turn his back at school, run fast, and if he ducks he avoids being hit in the head by the gravel that the boys in the school yard throw.

Håken, the one with the burning gaze, the one sitting on a branch high up in a tree, seems to know things about Aris. There are so many exciting things happening when he hangs out with Håken. Things that Aris never even dared to dream about.

But who is Håken really? A real person or a demon?
